◆ TRAVEL/ TOURISM:

✚ Do you think traveling can make you feel relax?

Yes, I believe so. Even sometimes traveling is a tiring thing for me if I have to spend too much time on the transports. But I love traveling and always regard it as a pick of break and relax. For instance, I went to Shanghai last summer. After my university entrance exam, I had lots of fun there. I visited the Bund, Yuyuan Garden, Fudan University and the World Expo. I was so astonished by the beauty in Shanghai no matter at day or night. Also, I met an old taxi driver whom told me a lot about the historical pasts of Shanghai, I just forgot that I am a modern people instead of appearing many imaginations about the past Shanghai, about I were a Shanghai girl have been living there. Every traveling experience for me has their meanings. For most of the time, traveling can makes me feel relax and it's always good to experience another culture difference.

✚ Do you think tourism will become one of the biggest potential markets for Taiwan?

Thinking about the environment in Taiwan, it's a wonderful island which contains a lot of beautiful cultures. Taiwan might not be a great spot for natural resources, but its abundant agriculture, nature sceneries, plenty of animal breeds, also traditional food and cultures are famous, and it will be a great spot for traveling. Like Taiwan have high mountains, beaches, gorges, Formosan black bears and salmons, Night markets and traditional dramas. Moreover, the economics of Taiwan in Asia is standing in a vital position. Those all contributes Taiwan as a great potential place to develop tourism. Furthermore, it won't be a surprise for me to consider tourism becoming one of the biggest markets in the future with hospitable Taiwanese. In conclusion, I have a deep feeling that tourism will definitely be one of the biggest markets for Taiwan.

✚ Do you think the earthquake in Japan will influence their tourism in 3 years?

Yes, I trust that the earthquake will influence the tourism of Japan a lot. Especially the recent three years. After the great earthquake news spread out to the entire world, as a Taiwanese, which living almost nearest to Japan, I have a profound feeling of scaring and shocking from my nightmares. I dare not to think about travel to Japan. Since watching the Youtube videos online and heard from Japanese friends, I've been worried about the destruction of Japan, even I know not everywhere in Japan had suffered. Moreover, the airlines in Japan have been forbidden. It's a quite big influence to the tourism of Japan. Furthermore, the radiation from Japan now is becoming a significant issue in the world. Even the official offices had moved to Taiwan and other places for the shelter. In my opinion, it needs to take some times for the recovery of Japan, for their government, economics, people and later comes for the tourism. The time may not be merely 3 years.
