Planning for the winter vocation

Can you imagine what is like to be after not seeing your girlfriend or boyfriend for a half of a year? I experienced that and finally I can happily tell you “Yes, my boyfriend is flying to Taiwan this winter.” However, I am also nervous because he’ s never been to Asia before. It will be my job to present Taiwan, the most beautiful island, to him. On my top list I am going to introduce three “must-visit” that are all meaningful for me to visit: Chiayi, Taipei and Yilan.

First of all, Chiayi city is the city I was born. We are going to enjoy this adorable city, for the beautiful scenery. Let us start from the scenery people come to see at A-Li Mountain such as sunrise, sunset and cloud-sea. Every year visitors come to explore their inside spirit all around the year and they will come to watch the cherry blossoms during New Year time. We can also take the train, and climb up to the mountain top, to view and experience this “Green treasure.”

Second, Taipei is the place where people must visit, for it’ s the capital of Taiwan. There are some places that you need to explore while you are in Taipei. Taipei 101, the second tallest skyscraper in the world, is officially known as the Taiwan international financial center. Moreover, the Chiang Kai-shek Memorial Hall, National Theater Hall, National Concert Hall are all worthy to visit. The place that we cannot miss is the National Palace Museum. Here we will see elegant proclains and historical masterpieces of art!

Finally, Yilan is the city where I live and study now. My university is located in Jiaoxi, a lovely town in Yilan. It is well known for its plentiful hot spring resorts. There are also some great hiking trails and waterfalls around. I will other than taking my boyfriend to appreciate the unbelievable scenery but also introduce him to my friends and teachers at my splendid campus!

Taiwan is a charming island that I can't wait to introduce to my boyfriend. My plan in this winter is to be a local tour guide and spend time accompanying him. In conclusion, we are going to experience the scenery and culture of Taiwan in Chiayi, Taipei and Yilan!
